

AU PAIR • NANNY • EDUCATOR

Further to our messages yesterday regarding the latest COVID-19 developments over the weekend. Below you will find further information regarding border controls which have been announced overnight in Europe.

We are monitoring the situation closely; and we are in close contact with our Partner Agencies as the situation continues to develop. We recommend you keep a watch on the information coming through and support your Au Pair in keeping in contact with their families.

Germany

Germany has moved to close some of its borders as of 8am Monday 16 March 2020 (GMT). Controls have come into effect at the borders with France, Austria, Luxembourg, Denmark and Switzerland. Checks will be conducted on travellers unless they are a German citizen or resident. Germany has also urged Germans to cancel any domestic and international travel. We understand this is temporary, and we are unaware how long this restriction will be in place for at this stage.

European Union

The European Union are currently considering banning all non-essential travel into the bloc for at least 30 days. We will keep a watch on any further announcements.

Non-Essential Travel Advice from the New Zealand Government

We will be reminding Au Pairs to consider any non-essential travel very carefully and ensure they are communicating with you. The New Zealand Government have strongly advised against all non-essential travel. At this stage the Pacific Islands are not included in the required 14-day self-isolation period when entering New Zealand, however if you require them to do so given the current climate, you may request that your Au Pair self-isolates. The cost of self-isolation will be at your Au Pair's cost, if they choose to undertake any non-essential travel.
